AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

"indispensable"*

Subscription Books Bulletin

In its 25th year

Subscription Books Bulletin is proud of its 25 year old position as the guide to the buying of subscription and reference books —encyclopedias, dictionaries, atlases, and collections of stories or materials for information and recreation. It evaluates and compares books and sets, stating whether they are "recommended" or "not recommended" for the home, school, and public library. Its unbiased critical reviews are prepared by a voluntary committee of thirty-five librarians. The Subscription Books Bulletin provides an important service which libraries should use and make available to the communities they serve.

"This quarterly should be considered indispensable in practically every type and size of library. One is tempted to say the smaller and more isolated the library, the more it needs this bulletin. Its modest price may well be looked upon as an insurance premium against the wasting of large sums in the purchase of bloated reference works." — Introduction to Reference Work by Margaret Hutchins, formerly Associate Professor, School of Library Service, Columbia University.

Quarterly, $3.00 a year

The Children's Hour

Among the 500 authors and illustrators whose works fill the 16 volumes of The Children's Hour are 33 popular winners of the Newbery and Coldecott Awards. These contemporaries combine with the classicists of children's art and literature to make The Children's Hour a work to deserve such praise as the following from a recent professional review:

"This brilliantly-edited set of books can be heartily recommended for the home library and for school and public libraries that desire a superior compilation of children's literature."

Complete information on The Children's Hour and reprints of recent reviews will be sent you upon request.

ASIA

One example of the wealth of exclusive materials presented in The American Peoples Encyclopedia is a unique, two page Historical Map of Asia in color. Perhaps the only one of the kind ever prepared on Asia, this map is part of the new 64 page section of full color historical maps appearing in The American Peoples Encyclopedia.

There are many other features which make American Peoples comprehensive and up-to-date . . . all written for young people, but written completely and authoritatively to satisfy the most probing mind.
